

GRAY TEAM COMEDY SONG (tune: Those were the Days)

1
(small boy) Once upon a time I was a camper
(entire team) Came to Maine upon a Delta jet
There I met some very funny people
But Blue men are the biggest jokers yet!

CHORUS (repeat after each verse)

Those were the days, my friend
My wounds will never mend.
The days of raids and counselors on O.D.
And now I'm swimming laps
Till even after taps.
And all the bugs in Maine are after me.

2 Massive demonstration is upon us
Will new insurrection follow soon?
Someone bought the local press to back him
Even Mick yells, "Horror for baffoon!"

3 Drama night when Krafchick entertains us
Patiently we watch his puppets jump;
Suddenly the social hall is empty
Everyone is running for the pump.

4 When it's time for swim, we start to tremble
Run to Barbara - sell a good excuse;
Nature has no wrath that can resemble
John Fradel who sets his fury loose.

5 Rattner's here two weeks and now he's quitting
Living with the terror from the south
In nine years he's never learned the answer
How to turn off Kronowitz's mouth!

6 Mickey picked an orator to umpire,
Every pitch he sings another tune
No, no, son, you're orbiting - you're bowling
No, no, son, it's Horror for baffoon!

7 Senior house has never been so rowdy
Kung Fu'd doors and making Zirkman whine;
Mickey said to Laszlo, don't you worry
You'll love it with Glenn Schwartzman in bunk nine!

8 Fifteen souls embarked on a canoe trip
Hoping to Lake Ossipie arrive;
Giant waves capsized them like Poseiden
But Dave and Willem brought them back alive.

9
(small boy) Now it's Blue and Gray, and summer's over,
(entire team) All my crazy friends are leaving soon;
Judges you are funnier than ever,
But don't forget it's Horror for baffoon!
