CLINK THE GLASSES...HURRAH...FOR CAMP CHICKAWAH...DRINK 'ER DOWN...
DRINK 'ER DOWN DOWN DOWN...

AND with this lyric of the traditional Banquet song, we say another farewell, and '83 goes into the memory bank. As the Blue team sang in the now famous split decision alma mater; "All the laughter, ..All the tears; We'll remember through the years."

Once again we have reached the final H in Chickawah standing for HOME. When we go home to the real world; to our schools and jobs, we take with us all of the lessons learned in our "home in the Pines". We can be proud of all of our accomplishments. It was another summer of doing, and perhaps this is the best lesson of all. The more we do and want to do, the better we feel.

We will miss our "place of summer and all of the people who helped to make this one a very special time. "Chickawah, we're coming home."
See you in '84,
Moe and Betty

 C A R N I V A L ***

Carnival day arrived on a rainy August 12, and Chickawah was ready. Not to be dissuaded from our day of charity, we set up inside the social hall and around the porch. The jail, operated by bunk 10, was outside and they earned $26.95. Those who were put inside were quite dry.

Some of our sisters from Camp Rappatak accepted our invitation to visit, joining in the carnival spirit and games.

All of the games of skill and chance were made or refurbished in camp by each of the bunks; some of whom worked for a week painting and building.

The most successful game of chance was bunk 9's nickel pitch with a total of $44.24! Another big money maker was bunk 3's "Pick-a-Stick", earning $33.05. The best game of chance was the Dart Throw by bunk 14 ("If Sandy Fink can do it so can you") they earned $28.15. Bunk 4's Sponge Throw did well with $22.80, and the Senior House almost won with Over and Under, pulling in $43.89. Jonny B's Tiki God Raffle brought in $52.40. Candy Store prizes and ice cream cones cheered up our spirits even more, and for a rainy day it felt warm and sunny knowing that we could have so much fun while earning a fat check for charity.

Each bunk is preparing a vote for the charity of their choice, and one will be chosen that represents the wishes of the majority. HAPPINESS IS HELPING!!!

 B A N Q U E T ***

The incredible, impossible, and indomitable Senior House of '83 chose as their Banquet theme, a LUAU. We can't figure out whether it was the new Windsurfer, or the tropical weather we have had, that prompted this choice. Maybe they've just been dreaming about hula girls. Anyway it was a very spirited affair with creative Hawaiian decor.

On the tables were little hula girls that were made of lolly pops and gum drops. On the walls were colorful posters illustrating the theme, for which the aid of talented professional, Paul Ehlers was enlisted. Uncle Moe made one of his famous banners. AWESOME!

The program included the usual speeches, songs, awards, hilarity, and of course the House's Last Will And Testament which can be read on the last page of this paper.

Cheers to the House for a great party!

LADIES FIRST COMES IN FIRST...

The closing of the summer has arrived with yet another successful production. This particularly peculiar play was performed to perfection. The director decided to use a new technique in putting this one together. Instead of playing it line for line; word for word, they worked off of the main points of the script and made up their own version. The clever cast collaborated and created some cagey and crafty camp. Jason Oletsky a seasoned actor, was simply hysterical as the opossum playing "Uncle Ed". Charlie Wingerter stole the stage as "Reverend Chuck Steele". Andrew Stern in his season debut, turned in a flawless performance as "Andrew (the melon helon head) Melton". Kenny Caplan and David Sodowick were perfect a pair of very serious and intense young actors. Brad Aronson, Marc Solomon, Drew Turitz, and Tommy Heller were very good. Adam Green was just all over the stage. What energy! Last but not least, Tony Polakoff proved why he is known as "the young and gifted". Brian Weisenberger should receive a Tony for Best director!

OLYMPICS

BLUE WINS IN STUNNING UPSET ON LAST MORNING...

The morning of August 16 dawned on many anxious campers. This had to be the day. What they heard at Reveille was an angry Mickey on the loud speaker; "whoever is responsible for this, come and take it down", he said. All campers were called out in their pajamas and robes to witness a garbage can on top of the flagpole, and the Senior House taking it down with great difficulty. Jeff Grant (master of such shenanigans ran to the rescue) Down it came, with team lists inside...jammed inside... another boo-boo. They were handed out by Rick Patrick, while many campers called "hoax". However, when Mickey lined them all up in front of the Mess Hall they began to believe and then came the Announcement; "THIS IS A HOAX" (brought to you by the Senior House ...then Gun Shot!...and Fire crackers and Doug, Chip, David and Jimmy running with giant signs..BUT. THIS IS IT! Jonny B's go cart didn't start, but the real lists went flying (amazingly similar to those of the Senior House)and everyone knew that another Blue and Gray series had begun. Sorry Seniors!

At the opening ceremonies after breakfast, Uncle Moe read the history of Blue and Gray and reminded us about the spirit of competing and doing our best "win,lose, or draw!". Mickey spoke about the meaning of Olympics as the culmination of the summer, and a time to use all of our best efforts and skills.

The captains who were congratulated for this highest honor that can be bestowed on a Chickawah camper, then proceeded to unwrap the little packages that would tell them their colors and counselors. Michael Mandelbaum and Jon Goldman chose BLUE, and Jeff Grant and Peter Scherr GRAY.. and they were off to the first of many team meetings and pep rallies

In the afternoon Track Meet, Gray took the lead by winning sprints, field events and the intermediate cross country. Blue won the junior and senior cross countries for six points. Then Gray counselors burned in their relay and the score was 10-6 Gray. Some first places in sprints were, Francisco Prieto, David Sadowick, Adam Green, Jon Klaff, Brad Aronson, Todd Jolson, Andy Stern, and Jeff Grant. Ryan Jolson, and Sam Friedman tossed the softball the farthest, and Sandy Pink had the longest football throw. On the second afternoon Gray team was in the lead by four points, and on thursday morning they swam away from the Blue adding seven more to make them ahead by eleven. In the afternoon, a determined Blue narrowed that lead to one point. The score was 55½ Gray to 54½ Blue. Friday morning Gray took four games and Blue only one, and going into the afternoon they were up by sixteen points. True to Jimmy Weinstein's toast, a Blue power surged, and for the first time Blue team took the lead by one point. That evening, in an unusually close song contest, Gray took the fight song, and the Alma Mater, and Comedy were split, putting the Gray ahead again, 90-87.

On the last morning, Blue had to take four games to win Blue and Gray, and Gray team needed three. Senior boxball ended early going to Blue, whose captain Michael Mandelbaum showed everyone how to slice the tennis ball for a triple (tennis is his bag). Todd Gelband was another power hitter as he put all of his efforts into winning his first Blue and Gray in nine summers. Newcomb went to Gray and Volleyball and softball, Blue. All ran down to the junior softball field where a close game was in the final inning. With men on first and second, Randy Mack got up and hit a double, and it was all over. He'll remember that for a while!

Captains Michael Mandelbaum and Jon Goldman landed in the lake with their clothes on in the strange tradition that honors all winning Chickawah captains. Todd Gelband was tossed in too for finally winning after nine years. It was awesome!

At the pump, Mickey called for cheers for counselor coaches who lost their voices, and Judges who didn't lose their cool. Now we will only remember the great plays like Phil Slewett's outstanding catch that added to his dependable hitting, earned him M.V.P. of the softball game. It was a well played series, spirited and close. Chirps cheers to all for being great. Though there was no buffoon, we had many laughs, and another Blue and Gray was put to rest.

LATE NEWS: CAPTURE THE FLAG ENDS 3-2. BIGGEST SCORE IN HISTORY.

TRIBES...by David Scher

Tribes was clinched early this year by Jeff Grant's Beavers. The Chilkat tribe, led by David Scher, finished in second and Michael Mandelbaum's Ute tribe ran a close third. Duke Tenenbaum's Yuma tribe was the first to be eliminated from contention, finishing in fourth place.

The Chilkat tribe won the firelighting contest with its new format. The Ute tribe placed second, followed by Yuma and Beaver. The Chilkat tribe also captured a victory in the Tribal Bowl, which helped them secure their overall second place finish. The Yuma placed second in the Bowl, and the Beaver, after losing a well fought battle with Chilkat in the first round, finished in third place. The Ute tribe then took their fourth place point.

We all had a competitive, well-spirited tribal year, and Jeff Grant's team enjoyed their well deserved "Beaver eat." (phrase coined by Beaver advisor, Paul Hunt).

FEAST LEAGUES...

In the second round of Feast Leagues, the big news was player coach Mike Bruno and his Brady Bunch, a stunning team of Michael Friedman, Todd Gelband, Seth Nagdeman, Jason Oletsky, Sam Polakoff, Duke Tenenbaum, and Steve Yerman. In the Intermediate league the winners were "Five Minute Limit" coached by Craig Gelband and led by Erick Sydow, which included Brad Aronson, Greg Friedman, Tom Laskawy, Mitchel Nydish, Gregg Simon, Scott Simon, Fred Turner, and Jordan Weinberg. In the Junior league the big winners were David Lichtenberg's "Busch" coached by Mark Caziel, with Jon Aborn, Michael Beron, Kenny Caplan, Sam Friedman, Chris Novick, Drew Turitz, and Brett Weinberg. They all enjoyed their winning feasts of Pizza, coke, and victory cake ending another season in the leagues.

 VARSITY TEAMS ***

It was an interesting, if not triumphant, season for varsity teams playing an active schedule against neighboring camps. While all campers play Feast Leagues, all varsity players go out for teams on an elective basis and in those sports that they like. We win some and we lose some, but most important, we participate, do our best, and have fun. Chirps cheers to the following teams and their coaches:

 SAND REACH '83  GIANT WATERWAYS BUILDING CONTEST

On lazy morning teams began to gather at 9 thirty for the tenth annual giant waterways contest. Keepers of the rules and peace were former winners Craig Gelband and Scott Saltman ably assisted by Jason Scherr. At the pouring, seven judges chose the team of Michael Solmsen and Benjie Polakoff as best with their waterways entitled "Thunderbolt". Second place went to Sandy Fink, Todd Augarten, and Andy Spielman for their rendition of "Super Slick", and in third place was a single contestant, Tom Laskawy with "Spectre's Run". Other architects who labored in the sun all morning were: Greg Friedman, Marc Solomon, Jon Klaff, Andy Stern, Andy Strausz, David Sodowick, Donny Moss, Mitchell Nydish, Mitchell Young, Jeff Greilsheimer, Darren Burman, David Burman, Sam Friedman, Steve Winick, Adam Dunetz, Kenny Caplan, Adam Green, Brad Aronson, Fernando Prieto, Francisco Prieto, and Jorge Lacayo.

The winners collected their prizes of ice cream sundaes, and another Waterways building contest became part of history. Yeeaaa SAND!!!

with Rick Patrick

Island Pond was dotted with sails all summer, due to fine weather and a keen interest in sailing. The new windsurfer proved a challenge to many and they could be seen working diligently to perfect their skills. Those who qualified to sail are:

Sailing 1:

Seth Nagdeman, Jason Oletsky, Jeff Rosen, Erick Sydow, Tom Laskawy, Andy Spielman, Ira Siegel, Darren Blumberg, Donny Moss, Mitchell Young, Fred Turner and David Sodowick.

Sailing 2:

David Scher, Kenny Spielman, and Jeff Rosen.

BOATING AND CANOEING ***

with Jimmy Weinstein, Mark Cazier, and Jeff Lovin

The first craft to be mastered is the row boat. Then campers advance to canoeing and sailing. Campers are always working to qualify, and the following boys have done that this summer:

Boating:

Steven Hornstein, Adam Dunetz, Francosco Prieto, Adam Pasternack, Doug Guma, Scott Simon, David Burman, Jonathan Aborn, Darren Burman, Adam Green, Sam Friedman, Jimmy Novick, Tony Polakoff, Carlos Septien, Billy Yeskel, Fernando Prieto, Gregg Simon, Andy Weinberg, Robert Simon, Benjie Polakoff, Larry Wagenberg, Brett Weinberg

Canoeing:

Jeff Greilsheimer, Mitchell Nydish, Brad Solmsen, David Friedman

Canoe Expert:

Jason Levine

This summer, Jimmy, who is on the Columbia University Crew, brought his scull to camp again, and spent many hours helping campers and counselors to handle this elusive craft. He designed a silk screen and with Brad Miller's help, screened tee shirts for those who managed to scull successfully to the Island and back. INTRA CAMP TENNIS TOURNAMENT... by Michael Mandelbaum

This year's Intra-Camp Tennis Tournament proved to be one of the most exciting in Chickawah history. In the 16 and under, top seeded Michael Mandelbaum beat 2nd seeded Michael Friedman to win the Senior Tournament. Mike Friedman advanced to the finals by beating 4th seeded Andy Goldstein in a thrilling come-from-behind victory, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. The upset of the tournament came when unseeded Philip Slewett defeated 3rd seeded Jim Brodie in a very close quarter final match, 8-6. Strong performances were given by Peter Scherr and Howard Leibowitz, both of whom won their first round matches, but were knocked out by seeded players later in the tournament.

For the fourth consecutive year, top seeded Erick Sydow has won the Junior title. The large turnout for the 13 & under draw didn't seem to effect Erick as he won his final match 6-1, 6-1 over 2nd seeded Jordan Weinberg. Third seeded David Friedman had little difficulty advancing to the semi-finals before losing to Jordan Weinberg. Kenny Caplan and Sam Polakoff won very close first round matches before both were knocked out by 3rd seed, David Friedman. The surprise player of the Tourny was Sandy Fink who won three matches including a victory over fourth seeded Ian Mendelsohn, before losing to top seed Eric Sydow in the semi-finals. Three cheers to Chip Counihan for running a great and smooth tournament, the best yet in Chickawah history.

ROCKETS:

On Monday evening, August 15, it was Rocket Night in Camp Chickawah Cape Canaveral style. We all gathered on the hillside between the Social Hall and the 3 trees, while Bakowski and his henchmen set up on 2nd base, and watched the count-down. The streamer class rocket that stayed aloft longest was Kenny Spielman's Spin Fin, 36 seconds. The Parachute winner was Andy Strausz' Sky Hook with 1 minute 23 seconds. Other rocketeers who helped to provide a great show were: Adam Copelan, Mitchell Young, Howard Leibowitz, Matt Adelson, Duke Tenenbaum, Erick Sydow, Jorge Septien, Brett Weinberg, Carlos Septien, Mark Davis, Robert Simon, Fernando Prieto, Greg Friedman, Jon Klaff, Doug Guma, Michael Beron, Brad Solmsen, Marc Solomon, Drew Spergel, Andy Stern, David Burman, Mitchell Nydish, Andy Weinberg, and Steve Yerman. Yeaaaa Lakeside Crafts, Jonny B., Brad, Doug and all the space cadets who finished their crafts projects (Jonny's rule) and then built their space invaders. We all had fun!

  RADIO...COMPUTER...SIGNING...ASTRONOMY  '83
 with Chuck Martin

Two Chickawah boys will be getting their Novice Ham Radio licenses this year; Benjamin Polakoff and Chris Novick. They should be receiving them in the mail this Fall. The following little awards were made by Chuck: The most enthusiastic; Gregg Paskin, The Best Morse Code; Brett Weinberg, Smoothest Operator; David Burman, Best Programming; Greg Friedman, All Around; Alan Sterenberg, Signing; Quincy Adams, Astronomy; Drew Spergel. 73's!.....

And so.....

As we carefully wrap our crafts projects, and wonder where the summer went, we leave with our own special memories of a special summer (people-wise)...the campfire challenges...and Mickey winning buzz as always...the games...the songs...5 minute telephone limit...Moe's Birthday Barbecue...chicken and ribs...Brian's X rated formations...Kevin's Blue Omni...the new windsurfer...sculling to the Island... Brian's P.A. dialects... Weinstein for President; "If nominated, I'll run; "If elected, I'll serve"... Paul's monster movie...capture the flag...NICE! (miss you Marc)..Let's do it again in '84!...
